Description:

Grumo Festival participants will receive daily private instruction and studio classes. Lectures on a variety of musical topics are offered and students are encouraged to attend. Ample practice time is given for students to prepare for masterclasses and performances. All students will participate in at least one formal performance given for the city of Grumo Appula. Possible hosting from local Italian families is a great way to make the most of the Festival. Participants will not only receive quality musical instruction throughout the week, but also be able to experience the true spirit of Italian culture and hospitality.

-The Grumo Festival experience is one-of-a kind. It gives you the opportunity to study with professional musicians from around the world in a unique atmosphere of southern Italian hospitality. Daily lessons and practice time are accentuated with masterclasses, lectures, and performance opportunities.

-Grumo Festival is held in Grumo Appula, a charming village in southern Italy. Situated near the cities of Bari and Brindisi, it presents not only a wonderful place to study music, but offers ample opportunities for leisure and sight-seeing.

-Dr. Giuseppe Lupis, founder and artistic director of Grumo Festival, serves currently as Assistant Professor of Piano and Artist Performer at Grand Valley State University in Michigan. As a soloist and collaborative artist, Lupis has toured throughout the U.S., South American and Europe. He is dedicated to preserving the arts and inspiring musicians.

-Staff: Jim Clanton (Artistic Director Assistant); Paola Mongelli (Public Relations, Italy); Donatella Burdi (Housing Coordinator)
